Criminal Investigation Division investigated the following incidents:

- 2023-June 5 – SC23004691 – * Update to missing youth from Strathroy* CID members with the assistance of the York Regional Police Service were able to locate the young female who was reported missing from Strathroy on June 5, 2023. A significant collaboration between the police services resulted in York Regional Police locating the youth and taking her to a place of safety. That investigation is complete.
- 2023-July 6 - SC23005619 – Sudden Death – On July 6, 2023, CID Detectives were tasked with an investigation into the sudden death of 2 month old infant in Strathroy. CID members with assistance from the Forensic Pathology Unit at University Hospital have determined that the death of the infant was not criminal in nature.
- 2023-July 14 – SC23001838 – Controlled Drugs and Substances Warrant – On July 14, 2023, CID members sought and obtained a warrant to search a residence on Carrie Street for drugs. As a result of that investigation, 2 adult males and an adult female were arrested. The search revealed quantities of cocaine, crystal methamphetamine and oxycodone with a total street value of $11,000 were seized. The arrested parties face a total combined 7 charges and will appear in court in August.
- 2023-July 27 – SC23006304/SC23006410 – Sexual Assaults – On July 27, 2023, CID members were alerted to the report of 2 young females who had been sexually assaulted. The investigation revealed that the female victims are associates and were sexually assaulted by two adult males. The males have been located, arrested and charged. CID has laid 6 sexual related offences against the males.
- July 2023 – The Street Crime Unit had a very productive month of July generating 25 reportable incidents relating to impaired driving offences, drug seizures, out of town warrant executions, trespass to property investigations and many more. The Street Crime Unit laid 10 charges in the month of July 2023.
